新北市立錦和高中與美國加州大學長堤分校城市走讀路線解說—大稻埕

日期：2026 年 07 月 02 日

🚶 1.5 - 2 小時大稻埕走讀路線說明：

本次走讀動線的設計，剛好呈現一個由南向北延伸，再折回迪化街核心的「環狀線」。
沿途從就以下五點來一窺台北近代史樣貌。

- 宗教信仰
- 洋行貿易
- 台灣近代音樂
- 辜氏家族崛起
- 當代庶民生活

第一站：臺北霞海城隍廟

- 歷史解密：
  此廟建立於 1859 年，是頂下郊拼（a mid-19th century clan conflict in Taipei）後移民重新凝聚的象徵。除了守護神城隍爺（City God），最著名的是月下老人（The Matchmaker / God of Love），可讓台外學生觀察信眾如何參拜，體驗台灣特有的「廟宇文化震撼」。
- 動線指引：
  從城隍廟出發，向西穿過民生西路旁的巷弄，進入歷史上著名的「洋行街」——貴德街。

第二站：李臨秋故居

走進巷弄內，來到台灣近代歌謠大師的創作基地。

- 歷史解密：
  李臨秋（Li Lin-chiu）是台灣極具代表性的作詞家，華人世界耳熟能詳的台語歌謠〈望春風〉（Bang Chhun Hong / Yearning for the Spring Breeze）便是他的作品。導覽老師可在此向外國學生介紹 1930 年代大稻埕作為台灣流行音樂與新文化運動搖籃的歷史背景。
- 動線指引：
  沿著貴德街繼續向北步行約 1 分鐘。

第三站：莊協發商店（千秋街店屋）

觀察清代大稻埕最早的歐風街區殘留的歷史店屋。

- 英文導覽與歷史解密：

  貴德街在清末稱為「千秋街」與「建昌街」，是台灣第一條洋式街坊。莊協發商店（Chuang Hsieh-fa Shop）是一棟典型的清代歷史店屋（historic shop-house），早期作為雜貨店。其建築帶有竹節式落水管等閩南特色，同時又適應了當時開港通商的街區規劃。
- 動線指引：

  繼續向北步行，下一個路口即達李春生紀念教堂。

第四站：李春生紀念教堂

探討清末台灣最傳奇的基督教買辦商人的故事。

- 歷史解密：

  這座教堂是為了紀念台灣「茶葉之父」李春生（Li Chun-sheng）。他作為一位基督徒買辦（Comprador），協助約翰·杜德（John Dodd）將 Formosa Oolong Tea（台灣烏龍茶）行銷至美國。教堂建築外觀獨特，結合了西方教堂的結構與閩南紅磚風格，是中西文化交融（East-meets-West）的絕佳實證。
- 動線指引：

  教堂對面或斜前方即是宏偉的陳天來故居。

第五站：陳天來故居（錦記茶行）

見證大稻埕黃金時代茶商富豪的奢華生活。

- 歷史解密：

這棟興建於 1920 年代的精緻洋樓，是茶商陳天來(Chen Tian-lai)的故居與錦記茶行總部。其建築呈現宏偉的巴洛克風格(Baroque-style architecture)，擁有精緻的拱廊、露臺與庭園。導覽老師可在此解說當年大稻埕茶葉貿易鼎盛時期，富商們如何在這裡招待歐美政商名流，引導高中生與外國學生想像百年前「茶香歲月」的繁華。

- 動線指引：由貴德街向北走到民生西路，過馬路後轉入歸綏街，尋找歷史上的鹽館。

第六站：鹽館（大稻埕辜宅）

轉入歸綏街，探討近代台灣政經家族的崛起起點。

- 歷史解密：
  這棟融合文藝復興與折衷主義風格的歷史建築，是日治時期台灣望族辜顯榮的住宅，因當時他取得了「鹽務專賣權」，故被稱為鹽館（Salt Office / Koo Residence）。這是一個很好的切入點，讓導覽老師向學生們解釋日治時期的專賣制度（Monopoly System）以及台灣近代家族的政經發展史。
- 動線指引：
  沿著歸綏街繼續向東步行，即可抵達大稻埕公園。

第七站：大稻埕公園（李臨秋紀念公園）

在綠意盎然的公園稍作休息，並進行音樂與歷史的呼應。

- 歷史解密：
  大稻埕公園又被稱為李臨秋紀念公園，公園內設有李臨秋的塑像，並定時播放〈望春風〉等經典歌謠。在此處導覽老师可以為前半段的歷史進行小結，並讓 20 人的團體在空曠的公園處進行大合照（Group Photo）留念。
- 動線指引：
  從大稻埕公園南切回到迪化街一段，往南走回永樂市場。

終點：迪化街（永樂市場）

回到全台灣最著名的南北貨與布料集散地，為走讀畫下句點。

- 歷史解密：
  迪化街歷史街區兩側皆是傳統的乾貨店（Dried goods shops）與中藥行。最後抵達永樂市場，這裡是台灣紡織與布料批發的重鎮。導覽可解說迪化街如何從清代的茶與南北貨轉運站，演變為當代文創、中藥與常民年貨的活化街區。
- 後續活動：
  解散後，可就近在迪化街的文創咖啡廳喝茶，或到永樂市場周邊品嚐在地台灣小吃(如青草茶、米苔目、土魠魚羹），進行更深度的台外學生交流。

💡 導覽時間：總計約 105-120 分鐘

- 霞海城隍廟（起點）：20 分鐘
- 貴德街建築群（李臨秋故居 ➔ 莊協發 ➔ 李春生教堂 ➔ 陳天來故居）：35 分鐘（此區景點極為密集，多為外觀解說，走動迅速）
- 鹽館 ➔ 大稻埕公園點選即可開啟側邊面板，查看更多資訊：20 分鐘（包含公園上洗手間、大合照）
- 迪化街老街漫步 ➔ 永樂市場（終點）：30 分鐘

City Walking Tour Route Explanation — Dadaocheng

Date: July 2nd, 2026

1.5 to 2 Hours Dadaocheng Walking Tour Route Description:

The design of this walking tour route specifically presents a "circular line" that extends from south to north, and then loops back to the core of Dihua Street. Along the way, we will catch a glimpse of modern Taipei's history through the following five points:

- Religious beliefs
- Foreign firm trade
- Modern Taiwanese music
- The rise of the Koo family
- Contemporary life of the common people

Stop 1: Taipei Xia-Hai City God Temple

- Historical Insight:
  Established in 1859, this temple serves as a symbol of the immigrants reuniting after the "Ting-Hsia Jiao-Ping" (a mid-19th-century clan conflict in Taipei). In addition to the patron deity, the City God, it is most famous for the Matchmaker (God of Love). This allows both Taiwanese and international students to observe how devotees worship and experience Taiwan's unique "temple culture shock."
- Route Guide:
  Starting from the City God Temple, head west through the alleys next to Minsheng West Road and enter the historically famous "Foreign Firm Street" — Guide Street.

Stop 2: Former Residence of Li Lin-chiu

Walk into the alley to reach the creative base of this master of modern Taiwanese ballads.

- Historical Insight:
  Li Lin-chiu is a highly representative Taiwanese lyricist. The Taiwanese ballad "Bang Chhun Hong" (Yearning for the Spring Breeze), which is familiar throughout the Chinese-speaking world, is his work. Here, the tour guide can introduce international students to the historical background of the 1930s when Dadaocheng served as the cradle of Taiwan's pop music and the New Culture Movement.
- Route Guide: Continue walking north along Guide Street for about 1 minute.

Stop 3: Chuang Hsieh-fa Shop (Qianqiu Street Shop-house)

Observe the historical shop-houses that remain from Dadaocheng's earliest European-style blocks dating back to the Qing Dynasty.

- English Guide & Historical Insight:
  In the late Qing Dynasty, Guide Street was known as "Qianqiu Street" and "Jianchang Street," and it was the first Western-style street in Taiwan. The Chuang Hsieh-fa Shop is a typical Qing Dynasty historic shop-house that was originally used as a grocery store. Its architecture features Southern Fujianese characteristics, such as bamboo-joint-style drainpipes, while also adapting to the block planning during the time when the port was opened for trade.
- Route Guide:
  Continue walking north, and you will reach the Li Chun-sheng Memorial Christ Church at the next intersection.

Stop 4: Li Chun-sheng Memorial Christ Church

Explore the story of the most legendary Christian comprador merchant in Taiwan during the late Qing Dynasty.

- Historical Insight: This church was built to commemorate Taiwan's "Father of Tea," Li Chun-sheng. As a Christian Comprador, he assisted John Dodd in marketing Formosa Oolong Tea to the United States. The church has a unique exterior that combines a Western church structure with a Southern Fujianese red brick style, making it an excellent testament to an East-meets-West cultural fusion.
- Route Guide:
  Opposite or diagonally across from the church is the magnificent Former Residence of Chen Tian-lai.

Stop 5: Former Residence of Chen Tian-lai (Jin Ji Tea Co.)

Witness the luxurious life of wealthy tea merchants during the golden age of Dadaocheng.

- Historical Insight:
  Built in the 1920s, this exquisite Western-style mansion is the former residence of tea merchant Chen Tian-lai and the headquarters of the Jin Ji Tea Co. Its architecture presents a magnificent Baroque-style architecture, featuring delicate arcades, terraces, and gardens. Here, the tour guide can explain how wealthy merchants hosted European and American political and business figures during the peak of Dadaocheng's tea trade, leading high school and international students to imagine the prosperity of the "tea-scented years" a century ago.
- Route Guide:
  Walk north along Guide Street to Minsheng West Road, cross the street, turn into Guisui Street, and look for the historical Salt Office.

Stop 6: The Salt Office (Dadaocheng Koo Residence)

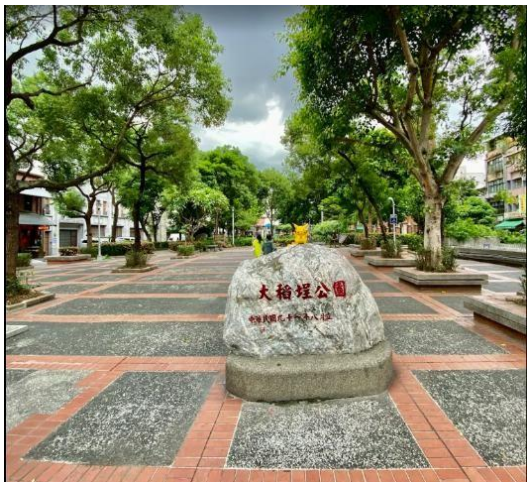

Turning into Guisui Street, explore the starting point of the rise of modern Taiwanese political and economic families.

- Historical Insight:
  This historical building, blending Renaissance and Eclectic styles, was the residence of Koo Hsien-jung, a prominent Taiwanese figure during the Japanese colonial period. Because he acquired the "salt monopoly rights" at the time, it was called the Salt Office (or Koo Residence). This is a great starting point for the tour guide to explain the Monopoly System of the Japanese colonial period and the political and economic development history of modern Taiwanese families to the students.
- Route Guide:
  Continue walking east along Guisui Street to arrive at Dadaocheng Park.

Stop 7: Dadaocheng Park (Li Lin-chiu Memorial Park)

Take a short rest in the lush, green park while echoing music and history.

- Historical Insight:
  Dadaocheng Park is also known as the Li Lin-chiu Memorial Park. The park features a statue of Li Lin-chiu and plays classic ballads like "Bang Chhun Hong" at scheduled times. Here, the tour guide can summarize the history from the first half of the tour and have the 20-person group take a Group Photo in the spacious park area as a souvenir.
- Route Guide:
  Cut south from Dadaocheng Park back to Section 1, Dihua Street, and walk south back to Yongle Market.

Final Stop: Dihua Street (Yongle Market)

Return to Taiwan's most famous distribution center for dry goods and fabrics to conclude the walking tour.

- Historical Insight:
  Both sides of the Dihua Street historic district are lined with traditional dried goods shops and traditional Chinese medicine stores. Finally, you will arrive at Yongle Market, which is the hub for textile and fabric wholesale in Taiwan. The guide can explain how Dihua Street evolved from a transit hub for tea and dry goods during the Qing Dynasty into a revitalized district for contemporary cultural and creative industries, traditional Chinese medicine, and New Year goods for everyday people.

Follow-up Activities

After dispersing, participants can conveniently drink tea at nearby cultural and creative cafes on Dihua Street, or taste local Taiwanese snacks (such as herbal tea, rice noodles, and Spanish mackerel thick soup) around Yongle Market to foster deeper exchanges between Taiwanese and international students.

Tour Duration: Total of approximately 105-120 minutes

- Xia-Hai City God Temple (Starting Point): 20 minutes
- Guide Street Building Complex (Former Residence of Li Lin-chiu ➔ Chuang Hsieh-fa Shop ➔ Li Chun-sheng Memorial Christ Church ➔ Former Residence of Chen Tian-lai): 35 minutes
  - (The attractions in this area are highly concentrated; mostly exterior explanations are provided, and movement is swift)
- The Salt Office ➔ Dadaocheng Park (click to open the side panel to view more information): 20 minutes (includes using the restroom in the park and taking a group photo)
- Stroll along Dihua Old Street ➔ Yongle Market (Final Stop): 30 minutes
